Palmer Park, Reading

Situated in one of Reading's biggest parks, this inclusive playground has vastly improved the play facilities for local residents.

A moment of Solace in a busy City

Palmer Park in East Reading provides a welcome solace from a highly populated area of the city. Amid the 49 acres of greenery, the new HAGS playground excites each and everyone who passes by.

A highly anticipated Inclusive Playground

Designed to be inclusive, the playground has a wide variety of activities for all children and has raised a lot of smiles so far. Both the councillors and the community were incredibly excited watching the playground being built and couldn't wait till opening day.

Funding secured from the CIL

The £67.5K project was funded by the Council's Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL) which is made up of financial contributions secured from new developments in the borough.

Say "Yes!" to HAGS!

Playground Officer, George Baptiste commented: "Our experience with HAGS was absolutely excellent, from start to finish. Would we recommend HAGS? Simply, Yes!"

Project value: £67,500
